CONDITIONS OF SALE

1. Any bid which is merely a nominal or fractional advance may be rejected by the auctioneer, if, in his judgment, such bid would be likely to affect the sale injuriously.

2. The highest bidder shall be the buyer, and if any dispute arise between two or more bidders, the auctioneer shall either decide the same or put up for re-sale the lot so in dispute.

3. Payment shall be made of all or such part of the purchase money as may be required, and the names and addresses of the purchasers shall be given immediately on the sale of every lot, in default of which the lot so purchased shall be immediately put up again and re-sold.

Payment of that part of the purchase money not made at the time of sale shall be made within ten days thereafter, in default of which the undersigned may either continue to hold the lots at the risk of the purchaser and take such action as may be necessary for the enforcement of the sale, or may at public or private sale, and without other than this notice, re-sell the lots for the benefit of such purchaser, and the deficiency (if any) arising from such re-sale shall be a charge against such purchaser.

4. Delivery of any purchase will be made only upon payment of the total amount due for all purchases at the sale.

Deliveries will be made on sales days between the hours of 9 A. M. and 1 P. M., and on other days—except holidays—between the hours of 9 A. M. and 5 P. M.

Delivery of any purchase will be made only at the American Art Galleries, or other place of sale, as the case may be, and only on presenting the bill of purchase.

Delivery may be made, at the discretion of the Association, of any purchase during the session of the sale at which it was sold.

5. Shipping, boxing or wrapping of purchases is a business in which the Association is in no wise engaged, and will not be performed by the Association for purchasers. The Association will, however, afford to purchasers every facility for employing at current and reasonable rates carriers and packers; doing so, however, without any assumption of responsibility on its part for the acts and charges of the parties engaged for such service.

6. Storage of any purchase shall be at the sole risk of the purchaser. Title passes upon the fall of the auctioneer's hammer, and thereafter, while the Association will exercise due caution in caring for and delivering such purchase, it will not hold itself responsible if such purchase be lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed.

Storage charges will be made upon all purchases not removed within ten days from the date of the sale thereof.

7. Guarantee is not made either by the owner or the Association of the correctness of the description, genuineness or authenticity of any lot, and no sale will be set aside on account of any incorrectness, error of cataloguing, or any imperfection not noted. Every lot is on public exhibition one or more days prior to its sale, after which it is sold "as is" and without recourse.

The Association exercises great care to catalogue every lot correctly, and will give consideration to the opinion of any trustworthy expert to the effect that any lot has been incorrectly catalogued, and, in its judgment, may either sell the lot as catalogued or make mention of the opinion of such expert, who thereby would become responsible for such damage as might result were his opinion without proper foundation.

INTRODUCTION

The Percy R. Pyne 2d Collection of New York City and other American Views is the most important and complete that has ever been offered at public sale.

The proportion of items that is unique, or nearly so, is astonishingly large and does credit to the owner's taste, judgment and generosity. No form of collecting, within recent years, has shown such unusual increase in interest and value as this department of Americana. Aside from the factor of local patriotism and civic pride which prompts many, who are not interested in any other form of pictorial art, to seek representations of views and scenes that appeal to them on sentimental grounds, there is a large and growing number that seeks everything of rarity and value that sheds light on the early history of the metropolis. The economic necessity for frequent change and rebuilding and the rapid march of improvement have caused the destruction of most of the old monuments, and these old views are the only reminders of previous conditions. Aside from this is the fact that lithographic art, which early reached a high degree of excellence in this country, is well adapted to the reproduction of architectural and topographic drawings and adds largely to their decorative value. This medium has been used more largely than any other. The proportion of original oil-paintings and water-colors is much larger and far more important than is usual in collections of this character. The growing scarcity of these prints, and the greatly increased demand, make this dispersal an opportunity that the wise collector will take intelligent advantage of. The catalogue has been carefully compiled in the belief that its importance and the consequent necessity for accuracy will not only aid present-day collectors but make it a useful reference book for the future. The explanatory notes have been condensed as much as possible. The prints are, in the main, in excellent condition, but imperfections or injuries are invariably recorded. The beauty of the illustrations, especially those in color, and the large number of important items carefully selected for reproduction, make this publication of the American Art Association the most important catalogue of its kind.

321. MANHATTAN COLLEGE.

Water-color.    Rectangle, 22<sub>o</sub>4 x 35<sub>o</sub>6
A very beautiful drawing taken from the river and showing the "Manhattan" railroad station, locomotive, passenger and baggage car, archaic and interesting, in the foreground. Manhattan College is prominent in the center with the Church of the Annunciation at the right and the tower of the Convent of the Sacred Heart in the background. A turn-table and receding street car, "Manhattan | To | Harlem," is just disappearing at the right. The Rectory House is shown north of the College. The rural aspect and the billets of wood, instead of coal, in the locomotive tender, suggest the period of about 1855. The site was purchased in 1853 and the Academy of the Holy Infancy erected. In 1863 it was raised in rank and incorporated as Manhattan College by the "Christian Brothers." The corner stone of the Church of the Annunciation was laid in November 1853 and it was dedicated in 1854. At that time it was the only Catholic church on the west side of the island north of forty-second street. It was later razed and a new church erected at the corner of Convent Ave. and 131st Street.

It is one of the most attractive exhibits of the collection.

[Illustrated in color. See Cover]

364. TAMMANY HALL.

Lithograph.

Rectangle, 9<sub>o</sub>2 x 19<sub>o</sub>

Printed & Published by H, R, Robinson,—48 and 52 Courtlandt Street New York. | The Funeral Of Old Tammany. | This mournful ceremony took place in the City of New York on the 10th, day of November 1836. The lamented individual had been long subject to a vast complication of disorders, which though combatted with great skill and perseverance by, Doctors, Humbug, Monopoly, & Office; at last carried him off. The symptoms became extremely alarming on the 7th, and the danger continued to encrease 'till the evening of the 10th., when Old Tammany gave up the ghost. A vast concourse of people followed the corpse to the grave, composed of all the office holders in the State; all the possessors of exclusive priveliges; and the members of the New York Regency. A funeral oration was delivered by the District Attorney, and a funeral dirge sung by Signor Garry Gilbertini.

To the right, a view of "Tammany Hall" with flag at half-mast. The hearse is driven by the editor of "The Courier and Enquirer," and among the mourners are the editors of "The Times" and "The Truth Teller." From the mouths of the principal figures issue inscriptions. A fireman in background asks, "Who killed Old Tammany" and is answered by another: "James Gulick!"

This caricature and No. 264 refer to the political excitement at the time of the election of James Gulick, deposed chief of the Fire Department, to the office of Register. No OTHER KNOWN.

Beneath there are six stanzas of four verses each, in three columns.

Beneath there are six stanzas of four verses each, in three columns.
Engraved by Henry Dawkins at Philadelphia in 1764. The view represents the old Court House on Second street, Philadelphia, the Barracks, the Market-shed and adjacent buildings. The speaker on the Court House steps has a scroll issuing from his mouth with legend: "Gentlemen the Affair is punctuly settled, for it, the Govr, returns you thanks and dismisses you."

Companies of Militia, four cannon, horsemen and a pillory surmounted by a British flag appear in the square.

Stauffer, No. 467, mentions the print and describes it from a reproduction, but was unable to give the dimensions as no original was known to him. This impression is the only one that can be located.

533. THE DESCRIPTION OF THE CITY OF NEW-YORK; containing its population, institutions, commerce, etc. (to which is prefixed an historical account of the city). With the large folding map. 12mo, half sheep, map slightly torn, and text foxed.
New York, 1827

One of the most interesting of the comparative early histories of New York City. The important historical events are treated in a manner to show that the author was minutely acquainted with the Colonial and Revolutionary history of the city. The appendix gives an account of the death of the original projector of this work, and of its continuation. This is followed by an "Ode for the Canal Celebration," written at the request of the New York printers by Samuel Woodworth, printer. The map, which contains two views of public buildings, is an important feature of the present copy, being usually wanting.

IRVING, WASHINGTON

534. A HISTORY OF NEW YORK, from the beginning of the world to the end of the Dutch Dynasty. By "Diedrich Knickerbocker." Engraved folding frontispiece. 2 vols. 12mo, full orange levant morocco, sides with panel design in gilt, consisting of a border of three lines, and tulip decoration in corners, gilt backs and inside borders of similar design, gilt edges. Top margin of plate cut down, two slight tears repaired, and backed with linen; small tear in first title repaired. By Stikeman.

New York: Inskeep & Bradford, 1809

THE RARE FIRST EDITION, WITH THE FOLDING PLATE, A VIEW OF NEW AMSTERDAM (NEW YORK) IN 1640, copied from an ancient Etching of the same size, Published by Justus Danckers. Although this plate is somewhat damaged, the fact of its presence is of great importance. This is practically the author's first book, being the first original work brought out by him without the assistance of other hands.

[JUDAH, SAMUEL B.]

535. GOTHAM AND THE GOTHAMITES, a Medley. 18mo, new orange levant morocco, gilt inside and outside border lines, gilt back and top, uncut. By Stikeman.

New York: Published by the Author, 1823

A charming copy, with the exception of a small tear at lower outside corner of title, which has been skilfully repaired.

A caustic Satire on New York City, and New Yorkers, for the perpetration of which the author was imprisoned and the book suppressed. The autograph signature, in pencil, of R. S. Livingston, on title-page.

RECORD PRICES PAID FOR PYNE PRINTS

New York Views each
$26,855, a Total Not Equalled Before.

ONE IS SOLD FOR $2,500

It Shows the "Government House," Built for Gen. Washington on West Side.

The new assembly room of the American Art Association was filled last night for the opening sale of the Percy R. Pyne 2d collection of American views, the most important and complete collection of such views ever sold at auction anywhere.

The New York views, which included many of the greatest rarity, having in many instances both historic and artistic interest, were the first sold. There were many high prices, the total for the evening's sale being $26,855. This is the greatest total ever received for a single night's sale of such prints.

The print in which there was the most interest was an early view of New York that portrayed the great house built for Gen. Washington called the "Government House," showing the west side of the city from the Battery to a point north of Trinity Ch'rch. It sold to Robert Fridenberg for $2,500. It is said to be one of the most important engravings in the entire collection.

Principal Buyer.

Mr. Fridenberg was the principal buyer of the sale. He gave $2,000 for No. 33, the "Wooded Heights View of New York" from the northwest, which is very scarce. He paid $1,500 for No. 38, an etching of the New York of 1796, showing the city and harbor, and $1,250 for No. 42, "New York From Long Island" in 1801.

Other purchases by Mr. Fridenberg were No. 7, the Fisher and Seller Map of New York, for $325; No. 10, Nieu Amsterdam, in line engraving, for $200; No. 12, Nieu Amsterdam, an etching, for $290; No. 14, Nieu York, in line, an only copy, for $375; No. 31, the Ratzer View of New York, for $300; No. 43, the White Horse View, by Seymour, 1803, for $575; No. 44, the "Picnic Party View," for $310; No. 52, the original Wall-Hill water colors of New York, from the William Havemeyer collection, for $1,600; No. 57, New York from Weehawken, an oil painting, for $320; No. 66, New York from Brooklyn Heights, an aquatint, for $600; No. 84, New York from St. Paul's Church, 1849, for $475, and No. 143, Bay and Harbor, a lithograph 1851 for $725.

Other Purchasers.

William Sloane gave $1,600 for No. 63, New York from the bay in 1836, and $270 for No. 25, the Howdell-Canot view, 161. M. Knoedler & Co. paid $304 for No. 21, "Fort George with New York," and $200 for No. 50, "New York from Governors Island." Charles Scribner's Sons gave $220 for No. 26, a Howdell-Canot view; Henry Steers paid $150 for No. 34, an aquatint of New York 1777; Kennedy & Co. gave $260 for No. 40, New York from Hobuck, 1800, and $325 for No. 70, the Havell Views, 1840.

P. J. Sabin gave $420 for No. 45, an 1804 aquatint; W. W. Seaman, agent, paid $475 for No. 68, New York from Weehawken; J. H. Kinnicutt gave $475 for No. 51, Wall-Hill Views, 1851, and Max Williams paid $275 for No. 60, View from Bedloe's Island; $260 for No. 64, Hornor View, 1836; $425 for No. 72, the Fort Columbus View, and $300 for No. 118, a lithograph of the Astor House.

The sale will be continued to-night.

RARE VIEWS OF N. Y. TO GO AT AUCTION

JAN. 5, 1917
Percy R. Pyne 2d to Sell His Collection of Old Prints
Now on Exhibition.

RECALL EARLY HISTORY

"Government House" Built for Washington One of the Offerings.

Collections of old American prints are not uncommon. They appear in the auction rooms with great regularity throughout the season, and the cult for them, instead of decreasing as time goes on, seems to increase. The Percy R. Pyne 2d collection of American views, which is now on view and will be sold shortly by the American Art Association, is, however, distinctly uncommon.

Robert Fridenberg, who has compiled the catalogue for the exhibition, makes the unqualified statement in the preface that the collection "is the most important and complete that has ever been offered for sale."

It is not likely that this opinion will be challenged. The collection is so large, in fact, and has so many diverse interests that amateurs will find the time of its public exhibition entirely too short.

The star prints are many, but it is difficult to marshal them for the purposes of a review into any sort of order.

When the auction occurs it will probably be found that the most spectacular prices will have been obtained for rare offerings such as the views that are labelled "the only copy known" or "only three impressions known," &c.

Have Artistic Claims.

It is on the other hand quite unfair to suppose that the engravings popularly known as "views" are entirely to be regarded as curiosities. On the contrary, they have many artistic claims.

Certain of them have been executed by engravers who had strong appreciation not only of design but of effects of nature.

Then, too, the very conventions that the early engravers were forced to employ helped them to render certain grandiose natural scenes in a far more satisfactory style than developed later with the increased possibilities for literal realism. With greater realism came the decline of fantasy.

In consequence it is extremely doubtful if the "Falls of Niagara" has been so successfully interpreted by modern painters as it has been by the older engravers.

There was at one point in American history a decided popular enthusiasm for "nature," which expressed itself in much sentimental frequentation of certain famously romantic spots, and the earliest railway excursions led crowds of eager tourists to waterfalls, caves, natural bridges and George Washington profiles on mountain tops that are now not only out of fashion but almost forgotten.

Cloud Effects on Manhattan.

The "nature" that used to be so much the thing is vividly recalled by Mr. Pyne's prints, and not only "nature" but many of our other cherished but short lived enthusiasms.

It is one of the great attractions of "old views" that they seem to recall more history than almost any other form of art.

The lovely aquatint by Bennet of New York from Brooklyn Heights shows men and women upon the terraces making spirited gestures in admiration of the cloud effects over Manhattan.

Weehawken, Hobuck and other early views of New York prove with sufficient emphasis that the early citizens who are denoted in the foregrounds were fully alive to the aesthetic value of the scene.

The view that is possibly the rarest in the whole collection and certainly is of great interest shows the "Government House" that was built for Gen. Washington with the city as it then was, from the Battery to a point north of Trinity Church. There are also some of the earliest New York maps.

Broadway, of course, was celebrated long before Miss Louise Sachen discovered it, and apparently had its attractions from the very beginning.

The "noble architecture" that pleased Walt Whitman so much, makes an excellent background to the six horse passenger sleighs in the winter scenes, and when the six horse sleighs are compelled to sidestep for the amateur fireman, and this usually happens in prints, then the animation is all that the most ardent may desire.

Fires Popular Subjects.

Not only firemen but fires were exceedingly popular subjects with the earliest artists, and Mr. Pyne has records of all of the most celebrated conflagrations.

According to the engraver the "Crystal Palace," which is also shown in its pristine state, made the fiercest blaze of any, although the Terrible Explosion" in the fire of 1845 runs it a close second. Compared with these the "Chicago in Flames" seems small affair, indeed, although a close observer may learn from the subtitle of this last that it was "the most destructive fire ever known."

Cleveland as a hamlet and Paterson as a village were charming. Charleston and Detroit were both fortunate enough to have been engraved by artists who had quite a Turneresque feeling for atmosphere. Charleston is particularly Turneresque, with the reflections of the masts of ships in the water, and the strange glamour of the lights on the clouds.

Providence at Its Worst.

Baltimore looks its best in a Benet aquatint, and Canot did a great deal for the early Boston. San Francisco is portrayed as it was before the discovery of gold, and Quebec is given a delightful foreground with two heavy dragoons spying through pines. Providence is shown up at the very worst moment of its history—during the "Great Storm." The waves are literally "mountain high" and great houses are tossed about in the sea as though they were eggshells. Finally Philadelphia is shown in gladdest mood, with "The Victuallers" making a procession, and bearing a live bullock securely caged upon a lofty float, the bystanders simply mad with enthusiasm.

With the prints is shown Dr. Alfred Owre's collection of cloisonne and other art objects. Dr. Owre, who lives in Minneapolis, became interested in enamels as a boy in Christiania, and later became enthusiastic about the wonders of this art that the Oriental craftsmen produced. In his years of travel he acquired 1,134 pieces, probably the largest collection ever brought together, and in the collection the evolution of Oriental enamelling from the crudities of the Ming period to the exquisite style of Yasuyuki Naniwaka of Kyoto can be clearly traced.

Some of the specimens came from famous collections. The great ice chest used for cooling the palace rooms in summer, which dates from the Ch'ien-lung period, was purchased in London. The interesting tea box for the tea ceremony was one of the gems of the Alma Tadema collection, while other pieces came from the Bowes and MacLean collections. Many of the modern pieces were purchased directly from the artists in Japan.

Many of the pieces are of great size. There are fine "Old Shippo" incense burners in the archaic tripod form, great fish bowls, Ming garden seats, vases, sacrificial colanders and candlesticks. A pair of Ch'ien-lung figures represent the attendants of a Lohan, and from the same period is a pair of great Dogs of Foo, mounted on richly ornamented bases. The early enamels as a rule are sober in tone, with designs and decoration that repay

BROADWAY VIEWS BRING HIGH PRICE.

Total of $22,266 Taken In at Second Session of Percy
R. Pyne 2d Sale.

MANY NEW RECORDS SET

Best Figure of Evening,
$1,725, Paid for "The Federal Hall," by Tiebout.

The second session of the sale of the Percy R. Pyne 2d collection of old prints at the American Art Association was concerned, like the first, with the dispersal of New York views. As at the first sale, many new records were established. The total for the evening was $22,266, making the grand total to date $49,121.

Robert Friedenberg was again one of the principal buyers, acting for a number of clients. The chief of his purchases was a lithograph of Broadway, from Exchange Alley to Morris street, 1855, for which he paid $1,550. This was the first time an example of this print had appeared at auction, Mr. Pyne having bought it some years ago from a dealer for $750, and no other copy of it is known.

The best price of the evening, $1,725, paid by Max Williams for No. 217, "The Federal Hall," by Tiebout, was, however, not a record price for the work. No. 162, a lithograph of "St. Paul's Church and the Broadway Stages," sold also to Mr. Williams for the record figure of $1,450, and No. 203, "St. Mark's Church, 1827," for which Mr. Williams paid $250, is also a record. The same buyer gave $450 for No. 175, an aquatint of Broadway and Canal street, 1836, and $1,350 for No. 219, an aquatint of the City Hall by W. G. Wall, 1826, and it was said afterward that this had been the exact price that Mr. Pyne paid for the print.

Many of the prints purchased by Mr. Friedenberg were making first appearances in auctions, and the prices obtained for them stand as records. Among these were No. 160, a photolithograph of Broadway, $400; No. 169, the Henry Clay funeral car, 1852, $850; No. 173, a lithograph in colors of Lincoln's funeral, $250; No. 190, Central Park skating, 1861, $290; No. 212, ruins of Trinity Church, 1776, of which no other copy is known, $550; No. 231, an oil painting of Claremont, $460; No. 236, Cortlandt street, 1856, $575; No. 251, Fifth Avenue Hotel, $500; No. 257, the "Fire of 1835," $350; No. 319, Lord & Taylor's store, 1860, $600, and No. 321, Manhattan College, in water color, $350.

M. Knoedler & Co. paid $1,000 for No. 176, "Broadway, 1856," and $160 for No. 171, "Broadway-Gatan," both being record prices. They also gave $575 for No. 159, "Broadway, 1856," a lithograph; $450 for No. 174, "Broadway, 1855"; $370 for No. 272, "First Division, N. Y. S. A., 1844," and $380 for No. 315, a lithograph of the Jefferson Guards. William Sloane paid $280 for No. 156, an aquatint of "Broadway from Bowling Green."

The sale concludes this evening.

AM. ART NEWS FEB 10, 1917 PYNE

The Pyne Print Sale.

Some 150 rare views of old New York went under the hammer Monday night at the first session of the sale of the Percy R. Pyne 2nd collection, in the American Art Galleries, for a total of $26,855.

A view of old New York, and showing the west side of the city from the Battery to a point north of Trinity Church; "the great house built for Washington", or Government house prominent (1796) was purchased by Mr. Robert Friedenberg for $2,500, the top price of the sale, and a record figure for this copy. Mr. Friedenberg also secured "The Wooded Heights" an aquatint, a view of New York from the northwest, for $2,000.

Mr. William Sloane paid $1,600 for a view of New York from the Bay, an aquatint (1836), and "Wall-Hill Watercolors" from the W. F. Havemeyer coll't, went to Mr. Robert Friedenberg for $1,600. The same buyer secured an etching of New York, (1796) for $1,500 and W. W. Seaman, agent purchased "New York from Weahawk", an aquatint, for $475.

At the second session Tuesday eve., more than 165 lots brought a total of $22,666. Keen interest was manifested in the dispersal of the historic old views of New York, and the rare examples offered provoked spirited bidding. "Federal Hall," a perspective view of City Hall, taken from Wall Street, was purchased by Mr. Max Williams for $1,725, the top price.

A tinted lithograph of "Broadway as it will appear," went to Robert Friedenberg for $1,550, a record figure for this copy. "St. Paul's Church and the Broadway Stages," a colored lithograph was sold to Max Williams for $1,450. For "Broadway from Canal to Grand Street, west side," a lithograph, Knoedler & Co. paid $1,000.

For more than 235 lots at the final session Wed. eve., a total of $18,211 was realized, which made a grand total of $67,352 for the entire sale. "Stuyvesant's Army Entering New Amsterdam," an oil by William Mulready, was secured by Max Williams for $1,650, the top price. "Wall Street," a lithograph also went to the same buyer for $625. A lithograph of "Warren Street" was purchased by Robert Friedenberg for $600, and "Quarantine, Staten Island," an aquatint, went to Knoedler & Co. for $450.

For a complete set of Valentine's manuals of New York, 1841-1866 Charles Scribner's Sons paid $400.
